intro

The time is in your hands,
why don't you understand,
that you can rule the world.
What will you do?
Yes, it is the truth!

couplet I

Don't know if it's real, or just imagination,
in this place, the time stands still.
As the night falls across the land!
There comes the lady, again she's wearing black.
Something flickers in the dark:
the talisman around her neck.

refrein

Dark clouds, fill the brown air.
The sounds of the forest, they fade away.
We enter this dark world, there is no return.

brug

*You've got to see it now,
that we are in your hands.
See it somehow!
You'll kill us if you fail,
but you don't even know it's here,
what can I do? Oh, no!*

couplet II

Now I found this man, it was better that he killed himself.
He won't hurt us no more, than he certainly did before.
Now we're safe, we'll stay alive!
There comes the lady, again she's wearing black.
Something flickers in the dark:
the talisman around her neck.
Now she's buried him, dead or alive!

refrein

Dark clouds, fill the brown air.
The sounds of the forest, they fade away.
We enter this dark world, there was just no return.
